

April 22, 2021

OET Webinar: Information to Help You Support Your OET Applicants

Monday, May 3, 17:00-18:00 US ET

Register Here

OET is offering a free information session for international medical educators on the Occupational English Test (OET). The OET Medicine test is designed specifically for physicians, in consultation with physicians. The test assesses the health care-specific English language competency and communication skills of physicians. OET Medicine is a requirement for international medical students and graduates who pursue a Pathway to meet the clinical and communication skills requirements for ECFMG Certification to participate in the 2022 National Resident Matching Program® Main Residency Match® (The Match®).

The session is designed to equip you with the knowledge you need to support students at your institution as they prepare to take OET. The webinar will cover:

- An introduction to OET
- Preparation advice and resources
- An opportunity to ask questions

Meet the Presenters

Rebecca Bush, Teaching and Learning Manager - OET

Rebecca Bush is part of the Education Team supporting candidates and teachers preparing candidates around the world for the Occupational English Test (OET). She is the presenter of the popular Facebook Live Q+A sessions which OET holds twice-monthly for candidates as well as a primary contact for teachers progressing through the training program OET offers to organizations running preparation courses.

Gary Neale, Consultant, North America - OET

Gary Neale is responsible for the development of recognition of OET in the Americas. He also worked on the rapid recruitment of test delivery partners in the Americas following the selection of OET by ECFMG in 2020. Gary has previously worked for companies delivering English language and University preparation training.

You can register for the webinar here.

Please register using Google Chrome.